

Scheidt & Bachmann “Ticket Xpress”

Manufactured by a new entrant into Britain’s ticket issuing systems market, Scheidt & Bachmann, these machines again use touch-screen technology, accept cash and cards, support various Railcards and offer the full range of destinations. Fan-fold ticket stock is used, with each ticket being cut from the roll by the machine. Tickets originally had diagonally cut-off corners, but these have been superseded by stock with the more standard rounded corners. Twickenham was the first station to have these machines installed; they have since been adopted as the standard self-service machine of choice by South West Trains, f ScotRail, Silverlink, Central Trains, Merseyrail, Arriva Trains Wales, “one” Railway and South Eastern. Some machines also exist at former Wessex Trains which are now part of the enlarged f Great Western franchise.

Text in GREEN indicates a machine that has been removed from the relevant location.
